TOS Timeline

(A timeline on the history of the USS Enterprise, NCC-1701 and NCC-1701A)

2242

???? Commodore Van Anling assigns Robert April to the construction project of the first Constitution Class cruiser (STL: 7)

???? Captain April puts together a team of Federation specialists including Security Chief George Kirk to pilot the newly constructed Constitution-class starship on a rescue mission to save the colonists of the SS. Rosenberg, trapped in an ion storm. While en route, the vessel is damaged by a pair of humans raised by Romulans to act as double agents. The saboteurs force the vessel deep into Romulan territory, which nearly leads to the vessels' capture. A defection by a Romulan Field Primus threatened with assassination allows the ship to escape Romulan territory, while at the same time defusing an impending invasion of Federation space. The crew and passengers of the Rosenberg are rescued, and the ship christened the Enterprise. (ST: FF)

Placement: Kirk and McCoy place this story as taking place in 2283, which contradicts all other time tables for the show and time lines. By moving the story back 40 years, it does fit into the timeline (110).

???? The Enterprise begins her first five-year exploration mission (ENL).

2246

32 d Oct 11-13: The Enterprise engages the Klingon cruiser Kut'Luch commanded by Kor while en route to Tarsus IV with vitally needed supplies. The engagement keeps the Enterprise from arriving prior to the Tarsus massacre. (ENL)

2250

3 d Captain April leads an away mission to Faramond via the Rosette Nebula, during which the Enterprise settles a territory dispute at Vega IX. En route to Faramond, April, his crew, and passengers George Samuel and James T. Kirk are attacked by pirates. James Kirk manages to sabotage the alien vessel and the Starfleet crew manages to defeat the pirates (ST: BD).

2252

- 1 d Oct 2: In an address to the United Federation of Planets General Assembly, Captain April gives command of the Enterprise to Captain Christopher Pike, giving the famous Enterprise speech. (ST: FF)

Placement: In book, listed as 2192, but date pushed back 40 years for continuity.

- 10 d Lieutenants Spock and Scott are assigned to the Enterprise. While en route to Areta, the Enterprise is diverted to GS391, where they locate the remains of the Vulcan ship He-Shii and discover the Vulcan's Glory, an important artifact for Vulcan society. The Enterprise continues to Areta, where Pike brokers a new trade agreement between the mutants, nomads, and town-dwellers after an eloping couple is kidnapped by the mutants. In the meantime, Spock investigates a series of murders on board the Enterprise committed by Security Officer Reed, a Vulcan hybrid attempting to steal the Glory (TOS: 44)

Time: 5 d (?) to Areta, 5 d on planet (202).

- ???? The Enterprise is directed to Starbase 12 to deliver an ambassadorial party to Delta Indus II (TOS: 44, 251).

2255-2264

- ???? The Enterprise investigates a pirate attack on the merchant freighter Telemakhos and discovers that the C'tanai are responsible. (TOS: 56, 126).
- ???? Enterprise retrieves the computer data banks from an abandoned Elarnite station mere seconds before the station is destroyed. Number One is injured in the retrieval. (TOS: 56, 127).
- ???? The Enterprise transports the Princess of Kalajia VII and her entourage to Kalajia following trade negotiations with the Federation. Jose Tyler has a tryst with the princess (TOS: 56, 133).
- ???? The Enterprise stops a Merkaan acquisition triad from plundering the cargo ship Lisander en route to Gamma Catalinas with vital medical supplies (TOS: 16, 106).

- ???? The Enterprise frees the Dindamorii planetary governor after anti-Federation terrorists seize the palace (TOS: 56, 133).
- ???? The Enterprise retrieves the data and crew of a downed shuttlecraft from a primitive planet and then destroys the wreck to preserve the Prime Directive (TOS: 56, 173).
- ???? The Enterprise spends one day in orbit over Lyra Omicron VI after a static back-fire causes a Quarantine Alert from the Transporter Room (TOS: 53, 45).
- ???? En route to Delta Vega IX for treatment for wounded crew, the Enterprise encounters a spatial rift with a thirty-three year cycle. Through the rift, the Enterprise makes first contact with the Calligar, a highly advanced isolationist race within the Gamma Quadrant. This contact is cut short when the rift becomes unstable due to their interaction with warp engines; a dispute with a local inhabitant and navigator Jose Quadrant almost causes the ship to be stranded in the Gamma Quadrant (TOS: 57).

Placement: Takes place after the Cage (11)

- 3d ? Enterprise is attacked by a Klingon vessel and suffers extensive damage. While undergoing repairs, the Enterprise is asked to take on an Eremoid observer in order to garner the rights to mine lithium from the Eremoid government. The crew discovers that Eremoids are projective empaths, and manage to overcome their increased tensions to protect a colony ships from a Klingon attack (ENL)

- ???? Captain Pike receives a promotion to commodore and Kirk is promoted to captaincy of the Enterprise.
- 90 d Nogura assigns the Enterprise to a three month tour of outlying Starbases, providing transport to a Vaudeville Company to boost morale. While en route to Starbase 13 in the Federation Phalanx, the Enterprise encounters the Worldship, a giant vessel piloted by an advanced race. The First Contact almost goes sour when a Klingon renegade, Koronin, attempts to take control of the Worldship. Kirk stops Koronin from destroying the ship and half the Klingon Empire; the Worldship removes itself from our space, and relations with the Klingons reach their best state in decades (TOS: TFA).

Time: Assume that the three-month Starbase tour continues as planned.

- 3 d During a survey mission on Dimora to determine the death of colonists, Gary Mitchell is almost killed by a poisonous Dimoran vole that is used by an assassin attempting to kill Kirk. While investigating the death of the colonists on Dimorus, Gary Mitchell is almost killed by a poisonous Dimoran vole while protecting Kirk (ST: CP, 139; TOS: 87)

Time: (?) 2 days for survey, 1 day travel time towards Muhlari.

12 d En route to survey the Muhlari system, the Enterprise is called to Starbase 31 to collect Admiral Mangione and a team of Starfleet personnel and deliver them to a classified location near the Klingon Neutral Zone. On a small planetoid in this system, a joint Klingon and Federation venture holds the M'tachtar, Klingon genetic supermen, prisoner. The M'tachtar capture the Enterprise and force Captain Kirk and half the crew to the planet surface. With the help of the Klingon captain Kang and Starfleet personnel still aboard the ship, the Enterprise is liberated. The M'tachtar request a public execution in front of the High Council (TOS: 87).

Time: 1 day to Starbase 31 (86), (?) 10 days to prison (112), 1 day to rescue Ent (248)

Paradox: Kirk states it was fourteen years since he was on Republic

42 d Enterprise conducts a mapping expedition of Sector Epsilon Z-3, surveying some thirteen star systems and cataloging seventeen Class D planets. During the study, the crew discovers M-155, a planet that phases in and out of reality. Kirk, Spock, Kelso, Dehner, and Mitchell are caught on planet during a phasing and are transported to Earth in the year 2045. The perpetrator is an immortal similar to Flint named Parneb, who is living his life backwards chronologically. With Parneb's help, the Enterprise crew helps a pair of stranded Vulcans escape from terrorists and the United Earth government, and to return to their world. The Enterprise crew erases their memories of these events and return to the future.

Time: Mapping expedition lasts six weeks (TOS: SFTS, 170)

???? The Enterprise is sent to explore the very edge of the explored galaxy. En route it discovers an old disaster buoy from the explorer ship Valiant two hundred years ago. Kirk continues and encounters a strange energy barrier. The energy barrier transforms First Officer Gary Mitchell and later Psychologist Elizabeth Dehner into beings with massive psychokinetic energy. Fearing for the ship, Kirk attempts to strand Mitchell on the abandoned planet Delta Vega. In an ensuing struggle, Mitchell, Dehner, and Security Chief Lee Kelso are killed (TOS: TV_1).

8 d The Enterprise returns to Earth so Kirk can attend funeral services for Gary Mitchell (TOS: 87).

Time: (?) 5 days to Earth, 3 days

Paradox: Uhura, Bailey, and Rand join crew at this time, McCoy now first meets Spock and joins Ent crew contradicts (TOS: TFA)

???? Kirk is bitten by a highly venomous Hairy Thrillkiller Scorpion during an away mission (ST: 75)

Placement: Two days (?) before the beginning of Star Trek: First Frontier

- 10 d The Enterprise begins a series of tests of a new warp shield designed to protect ships from gravity distortions. While in the accretion disk of a blue giant, the Enterprise's shields create a node of stability that attracts a cosmic string, with which the Enterprise collides but passes through before its gravity crushing effects manifest itself on the vessel. This unimaginable event actually allows the Enterprise to keep from ceasing to exist as, at that exact moment, a group of Clan Ru use the Guardian of Forever to travel back in time and save the dinosaurs of Earth from extinction. The Enterprise, alone in a new reality where humanity is nonexistent and the Federation subsequently was never formed, fights its way past hostile Klingon and Romulan forces to the Guardian. The ship destroyed, Kirk and a small away team travel back in time and convince the Clan Ru scientist that her efforts to secure a future for her people is in vain. With her help and the help of a captured Klingon named Roth, the team manages to neutralize the asteroid deflector and revert time to its proper course. Lt. La Cerra and four security personnel are killed during the mission (ST: 75).

Time: 6 days (28), 15 min (24), 4 min (55), 9 hrs (71), (?) 3 days (125)

Paradox: Kirk says the meeting of Earth and Vulcans was the start of Federation (163) , Kirk states Federation was formed before Romulan war (164), McCoy says Cochrane developed warp while looking for something else (30) Chekov says Romulans have never been closer to Earth than several minutes past the system at full impulse (108)

- 25 d The Enterprise is sent to make first contact with the Hawking, a generation star ship that left Earth just prior to World War III. Finding that the Doomsday Machine destroyed their original destination, the Enterprise finds the Hawking crew a place on the colony world of Merope IV. While at Merope IV, the crew helps the colonists make contact with a living biomass on the planet that threatens the colony after a new settlement threatens the biomass' central intelligence (TOS: 88).

Time: 1 week (17), 2 weeks (?) less than a month (49), 2 days, 2 days.

Placement: After Doomsday Machine and Space Seed

- 4 d Enterprise is sent to repair the databases of five worlds, including Cynur IV, Emben III, and Tyrtaeus II, after a virus accidentally downloaded from Federation archives destroys both their databases and their subspace communications arrays. While at Tyrtaeus II, the Enterprise makes First Contact with the Star-core Aliens, as they observe their vessel dive into the Tyrtaeus sun. Spock, Kirk, and McCoy make mental contact with the Star-core aliens, and convince them that the Federation will leave them alone (TOS: 83).

Time: At least four days at Tyrtaeus II (TOS: 83, 31).

Placement: Rand is still a Yeoman (TOS: 83, 143)

- 3 d? Enterprise sent to the Nevis system to investigate a peace treaty between Prastor and Distrel following 12,000 years of warfare, apparently drafted by Harry Mudd. The Peace treaty falls apart and conflict resumes; Kirk, Scotty, Sulu, and Chekov are killed in the hostilities. They are soon discovered alive, however, now incorporated into a complicated transporter and medical resurrection system that forms the basis of their society and religion. With the help of Stella Mudd, the crew manages to repair damages to the resurrection system caused by Mudd (TOS: 81).

Placement: Yeoman Rand still on board, Before TMP, as uniform colors are mentioned.

Time: One day to Nevis system (7)

- 4 d The Enterprise is called to sent to mediate the release of hostages on the planet Rimillia and to oversee the project that led to this situation: an attempt to create rotation on the severely strained, tidally locked planet. Despite several terrorist attempts to stop the project, Chief Engineer Scott successfully starts the planet's rotation (TOS: 77).

Placement: After Shore Leave, Vendikar and Eminiar; Nurse Chapel

Time: Four days to bring the engines on line from arriving at Rimillia

- 13 d From Starbase 23, the Enterprise is sent to Pegasus IV to pick up Conrad Franklin Kent and his aide, both outspoken critics of Starfleet and their role in the Federation, and deliver them to Starbase 12 to attend the testing of Professor Omen's new phased shields. The Enterprise tracks the disappearance of both Klingon and other vessels to o Omen's latest creation: the Aleph, a device that can send a ship to any point in this and any other universe. Omen developed these devices to try to stop armed conflict by eradicating the combatants. Omen uses his Aleph device to banish the Enterprise to the dimension from which the energy-draining amoeba had come from. The Enterprise escapes both this reality and one in which Klingons ruled controlled Earth and the Federation had never been formed. Back in our universe, the Enterprise stops Omen but is unable to stop him escaping through his own creation.

Placement: TOS; refers to primary color uniforms (6)

Time: Kirk refers to months of patrol without shore leave (5), Ready to leave 23 in less than a day (7): Arrives at Pegasus IV nine hours later (11) Several days to SB 12 (3) Test next day; Set for Sector 412 next day (82), six hours to Sector. Trapped in alternate realities and time back to SB 12; app one week (231)

- ???? The Enterprise is sent to the home world of the Ai'La'Mos to stem armed conflict between the natives and Nailati colonists. They resolve the communications problems between the two species by providing the natives with voice recording technology (TOS: 70).

- 20 d The Enterprise is sent to Patria to investigate the government claims that a rebel underground is being supplied with disruptors by the Klingons. They discover that the disruptors are actually being used by a secret group of Mindcrime cops under the command of a secret group within the government itself attempting to take over the planet (TOS: 69).

Placement: Nurse Chapel (32), Before Organia; peace conference with Klingons

Time: 10 d.(?)- 2 to get there (?), 3 to develop surgical technique, 3 to rendezvous with Lexington

- 7 d The Enterprise is assigned to capture the pirate Auk-rax. Kirk, Spock, and McCoy follow the pirate to the planet Sanctuary, where they find themselves unable to return the Enterprise. They are remanded to the custody of the Senites, a group of androgynous individuals who take care of the needs of those who have come to Sanctuary. While the landing party works with the pirate Auk-rax to escape from the surface, Scotty works with the bounty hunters in orbit and with the USS Neptune to effect their rescue. The landing party finally makes their escape using a hot-air balloon to pass the energy shield that surrounds the planet. (TOS: 61)

Placement: During the first five-year mission (HN), After Let That Be Your Last Battlefield (12)

- 21 d? Following the death of Omne, the duplicate Kirk is disguised as a Romulan and joins the Romulan Commander's crew, posing as a tribute member of the ruling family. Captain Kirk is assigned to serve as Ambassador Plenipotentiary to the Voran Dynasty, where he is required by protocol to give the Medallion of Liberation from the Hegarch to the New Regent of who is revealed to be a resurrected Omne. An assassination attempt on Omne nearly kills Spock; both Spock and Kirk join with Omne to fight against a duplicate Omne determined to take the other's place. They join the Romulan commander, the duplicate Kirk, and the tribute hostage Trevanian at the Anomaly in the Neutral Zone. The evil Omne is killed saving the original Kirk's life; Kirk forces the duplicate Omne to maroon himself in an alternate reality accessible only via a portal on the Anomaly. Omne's last act of revenge is to activate a failsafe mechanism that transports the duplicate Kirk into the same exile, sealed off from the rest of the galaxy as the tunnel through the Anomaly collapses (FOP).

Time: Commander obtains Doyen's hoe tribute two weeks following beginning (32). (TOS: POP), Commander obtains Doyen's hostage tribute two weeks following beginning (32).

Placement: After Friday's Child (117), Piece of the Action (117), Vaal (118), Eminiar and Vendikar (118)

21 d? While delivering medical supplies to Draymia, Dr. McCoy is arrested on charges of genocide, as a plague wiped out a colony world after McCoy administered an inoculation program on the planet nineteen years ago. While investigating his innocence on the color, the Enterprise crew contracts the disease. McCoy is released from prison to help Spock find a cure, and discovers the disease is caused by natural radiation in the Draymian system that the home world is protected from via its atmosphere. McCoy synthesizes a cure and his arrest is expunged. (STL6: A)

Time: 2 weeks from Draymia (10); one would assume that they have been travelling to Draymia for several days (3 app).

Placement: 19 years after McCoy's assignment on Draymia II (18).

5 d En route from Draymia, the Enterprise stops to survey a group of non-system Type 4 Asteroids and is attacked by a triad of Romulan. The Enterprise escapes the Romulans by passing through a strange energy anomaly. The anomaly causes the computer's higher logic functions to malfunction, causing the computer to enact ever more dangerous practical jokes against the crew. Kirk tricks the computer into returning to the anomaly and passing through again, which reverses the effects of the first pass. Pursuing Romulan vessels are then similarly affected (STL6: PJ).

Placement: Several days (3?) from Draymia (67)

36 d The Enterprise is redirected to follow the path of a transmission sent by a mysterious alien probe that made a complete inspection of Federation space before self-destruction. They encounter a alien vessel piloted by a winged serpent named Kulkulkan. Kulkulkan visited numerous ancient Earth civilizations, giving them blueprints to create an ultimate utopia. Once the city he gave each civilization had been built to his specifications, he would return to Earth. However, none of these civilizations built his exact model. Kirk and his companions fight with the creature, releasing animals from his menagerie to serve as a distraction. Kulkulkan agrees to free the Enterprise and rejects their offer to join the Federation (STL6: ST)

Time: Enterprise follows this course for several weeks (3?) (140)

30 d R&R at SB 4 (TOS: 6)

69 d During a study of gravimetric disturbances along the outer edge of the Orion Arm, the Enterprise is thrown some three hundred parsecs into the stellar void between the Orion and Sagittarius Arms. Crippled, the ship makes its way to the isolated Mercan system and makes contact with its inhabitants in the hopes of obtaining repairs. In order to protect the crew from Hyper-Berthold Rays emitted by the star, the Enterprise alters the gravimetric balance of the star, ceasing its lethal outbursts. The crew then works with the Mercan to redraft their world government, which was based on this deadly occurrence. The new document is called the Enterprise Agreement (TOS: 6,).

Placement: Shortly after several missions against Klingons near Neutral Zone (7), After 1 mth of rest at SB 4 (8) Yeoman Rand, MíBenga, Nurse Chapel (17, 80).

Time: App 5 days until hitting turbulence (?) 3 d to Mercan (26), 4 d on planet (75), 3 d, 10 d (195), 2 w, (201), 1 m to SB 4 (?)

???? Enterprise engages a Romulan vessel attacking Federation Neutral Zone outposts with a new high-energy plasma weapon. It is the first Romulan contact with the Federation since the Romulan War. Kirk engages the Romulan ship and destroys it near the Icarus comet in the Icarus IV star system. (TNG: TR, 118).

7 d The Enterprise is sent to the Taygetian system to investigate a spatial anomaly that destroyed an independent freighter. A Klingon vessel, commanded by Commander Kor, arrives at the planet. With the help of composer Guy Maslin, the anomaly is found to be the result of a unique reality-shaping song sung by the native Taygetians. The Taygetians, misclassified as a non-sentient species during an initial survey, had been hunted for the jewel-like tears they secrete upon death; the resulting loss of voices in their chorus caused the development of the rift. While helping Kor defuse an attempted coup on his ships, Kirk and crew detain the hunters and manage to communicate with the Taygetians; Guy Maslin dies during the attempt. Diplomatic relations are established with the Taygetians. (TOS: 19)

Time: 1 d from SB 24, 3 d from SB 24 (48) 1 d (66), 1 d (95), 1 d (109)

Placement: After Organia, first time they have met since that event (55), Scotty participates in the stealing of the coronation stone, 28 yrs prior (TOS: 19, 101)

7 d Enterprise fights a week long hit and run battle with the Romulan cruiser Bloodwing that ends in draw (TOS: 18, 90).

77 d While investigating changes in stellar ecology in the Phi Trianguli corridor, the Enterprise is directed to travel to the other end of the corridor and take command of a task force along the Neutral Zone. While investigating reports on increased Romulan activity, the Enterprise is approached by the Romulan vessel Bloodwing, under the command of captain Ael. Ael unveils a risky plan to help the Enterprise destroy a secret Romulan project within Romulan space that is attempting to graft brain tissue from captured Vulcans to Romulan volunteers. The mission becomes extremely critical when the Intrepid II is captured and its crew taken to the facility. With the help of Ael, the Enterprise frees the captives and destroys the station. Ael's son Tafv attempts to take over the Enterprise during battle but is stopped by the crew. Romulan vessels Javelin, Rea's Helm, and Battlequeen are destroyed during the mission. (TOS: 18)

Time: 8.5 (28), 2 d (?); 3 d (137), 2 m back to Earth, 3 d app (303)

Placement: Prior to TMP; the design of the Intrepid II has features similar to later Constitution refits (TOS: 18, 47).

Paradox: Spock says the Vulcan mind disciplines did not develop until after Reformation (97).

46 d? The Enterprise investigates a naked singularity that has opened near a major spacelane. During the study of the phenomenae, Spock determines that the entropy of the universe has been increased to the point that the universe will end in a matter of centuries rather than billions of years. The Enterprise is called away from its studies to provide transport for convicted murderer and physicist Georges Mordreaux. Mordreaux murders both Kirk and Security Chief Flynn, who escapes from custody with seeming ease. Spock determines that Mordreaux has in fact developed a time travel device, and that a future insane Dr. Mordreaux is responsible for the murders. Spock uses the device to travel back in time to stop the entire sequence of events. All memories of this alternate timeline were erased, save for that of Science Officer Spock (TOS: 2).

Time: 6 w (1), assume Spock comes back the exact point he left, app 4 d (?).

Placement: Set before TMP, primary colors - Spock wears blue (168)

54 d The Enterprise systems are upgraded at the shipyard facilities of Yalbo and trial runs of the TERC and computers retaining the wisdom of previous Starfleet commanders are tested. Miss Mason of the FNS accompanies the Enterprise on its trial mission, the rescue of Vulcan researchers from the Black Box Nebula, believed to have died nearly ten years ago. The crew discovers the Vulcans have been used by a spatial entity known as Corona, who is attempting to recreate the Big Bang. Spock and Mason manage to communicate with the entity and get it to desist its efforts. Corona departs, but not after altering the commands of the new monitoring devices to allow McCoy to save the lives of the Vulcans it used. (TOS: 15)

Time: Twenty d refit (13), 2 w from Nebula (27), 2 w to Yalbo, 1 to Vulcan and SB 19

Paradox: Harauk is stated to be the only Vulcan to achieve command rank in Starfleet, I assume this means to Commander-in-Chief (57).

16 d An Enterprise away team field tests new telescan implants on a cultural survey mission on Kyros. The devices, however, prove to be too powerful and crewmembers begin to exhibit the behaviors of scanned natives. An altered Susan George modifies Spock's telescan to receive the thoughts of revolutionary leader Chag Gara. The device malfunctions, incapacitating Spock and giving the native access to Spock's mind. Chag Gara cripples the ship in the face of a deadly radiation storm and nearly starts a jihad before the away team manages to salvage the situation. (TOS: SM)

Time: Eighth day in orbit (1), 8 d and ten hours until Enterprise leaves orbit (19), Says there is two weeks until the radiation storm passes, at which time the Ent will return. However, I would surmise that the Enterprise would have been sent to a new assignment. The events in this book would in my mind have convinced Starfleet that the Prime Directive had been seriously strained and that further contact with the Kyrosians should be suspended for the time being.

Placement: After the Squire of Gothos (3), Mbenga (9), Nurse Chapel (41) soon after Spock Must Die: McCoy talks about last time Scotty used the transporter (51).

- 14 d The Enterprise retrieves a complement of scientists from the University of Nexqualy to perform an archeological survey of the Dulciphar star cluster. Members of the scientific away team on Careta IV, as well as Chekov and Kirk, are pulled through a Khllict transporter system that alters their genetic material into that of the long-dead race. Spock and Kirk manage to decipher the madness-inducing Khllict culture and language to reverse the process; Careta IV is declared a quarantined world (TOS: 65).

Time: Story takes place over two weeks (270).

- 7 d The Enterprise is assigned to ferry delegates to the Nobel Z. Magnees Prize ceremonies on Memory Alpha (TOS: 42). While en route, Spock is imprisoned by Starfleet security under the command of Commodore Montana Wolfe, after Federation Security learns that a Vulcan will attempt to assassinate a delegate at Memory Prime. Kirk and his crew manage to spring Spock from imprisonment and uncover the true assassin, but not before he completed his assignment and killed one of the Pathfinders, who was attempting to bring about the economic collapse of the Federation. (TOS: 42)

Paradox: Zefram Cochrane is referred to as a native of Centaurus (75)

Placement: 2 years after Lights of Zetar (125).

Time: 1 week

- 21 d While investigating Klingon activity in Sector 79F, the Enterprise discovers that the Beta Castelli system has been consumed by an alternate universe seeping into our own; this universe, just minutes from having been born in its Big Bang, threatens to overwhelm our own. At the Zirgosian colony of Holox, the Enterprise discovers the rift has been caused by Vinithi seeking to force the Federation to cede both a colony world and all of its Starbases to them. A ship of Vinithi children captures Kirk, Chekov, Scotty, and Uhura. The children force them to train a command staff. The captives manage to sabotage the ship and convince the Vinithi to surrender. They then proceed to seal the rift. (TOS: 41).

Time: 1 week (1), 1 day (13), 1 day (20), 8 days (136) 4 days

Placement: Before TMP (31)

- 16 d The Enterprise is directed to the planet Discord to remove human settlers from the world at the request of the native Susuru. The settlers, genetic refugees from the Eugenics Wars, are involved in skirmishes with the Susuru and their Klingon allies. The mission is further jeopardized when Deputy Commissioner for Interspecies Affairs Moriah Wayne sides with the Klingon commander Kain, who has a personal vendetta against Kirk. After the destruction of a Human city settlement, Spock makes contact with the true sentient lifeforms of Discord, who reveal that the Susuru are settlers themselves. The Enterprise fights a running battle between a Klingon cruiser and dreadnought; Kain, Wayne, and 20 crewmen in Engineering are killed. The Susuru are transported to a more hospitable world for their purposes. (TOS: 66)

*Placement: Five years after Kirk takes command (22), after time when computer felt affection for Kirk (124), 2 y after Friday's Child (TOS: 66, 181).
Time: 3 days to System from SB 23 (63), 9 d, 3 (?) d to SB 23 (279), After computer feeling affection for Kirk (124), 2 y after Friday's Child (TOS: 66, 181).*

Paradox: WWII during 2072 (104), Book says Kirk bested Kain at Endikon 20 years ago, which would make him 14-15 (?). Perhaps Klingon years are shorter than Terran years?

???? The Enterprise investigates a semi-intelligent cat species on an uncharted planet; Kirk suffers several broken ribs during the study when attacked by a large cat (TOS: 20, 90).

9 d While in disputed space, the Enterprise is attacked by a Klingon vessel. Four crewmen are killed: Rosen, Livinger, M'Gura, and Jankowski. Ensign Carl Remington is seriously injured and the Enterprise brings him to Vulcan to be the subject of a new and potentially dangerous nerve regeneration technique. While on Vulcan, Kirk investigates a series of murders and accidents at the Vulcan Science Academy, which are eventually traced to Sarek's assistant, who is attempting to murder Amanda Grayson so she may take her place.

Placement: First return to Vulcan after Amok Time (67), Dr. M'Benga joined the Enterprise crew (134).

Time: 6 days (15), 3 days (271)

53 d The Enterprise is diverted from some shuttling missions and transport of Vulcan political prisoners by a plague on Nisus. The crew is exposed to the IDIC epidemic by a Vulcan entering planet Nisus is a by-product of lifeform's reproductive cycle (TOS: 56). Dr. McCoy helps to isolate a factor in Klingon and Romulan blood that makes them immune to the virus and a serum is developed. The Enterprise conducts rescue operations when the colony dam gives way and the colony is flooded.

Time: One month on Vulcan, (includes time from last novel), 3 days out, then three days back (30), three days to Nisus, three days (?) in orbit, 20 until a vaccine is made

Placement: After Vulcan Academy Murders

4 d Kirk and an away team are buried alive by a landslide on Octavius IV after an alien life form poisons Spock. Spock is forced to abandon the away team to respond to a Merkaan raid on the Beta Cabrini mining colony. Spock, suffering from the poison, is put through the gauntlet by Merkaan Acquisitor Hamesaad Dreen, whose career he nearly ruined nearly ten years earlier. With the colonists help, the Merkaans are defeated and Kirk and the away team are rescued. Spock's condition is cured when the away team discovers the poison is part of the creature's reproductive cycle (TOS: 56).

Placement: Fourth year of original mission (HN), 10 y after Pike's encounter with Merkaans (TOS: 56, 2), after Omicron Ceti III (TOS: 56,13).

Time: 2 days since distress call sent (138)

- 10 d An Enterprise Away Team is put into a coma for ten days after being exposed to alien spores on the planet Delta Gamma IV, after which they mysteriously awaken. (TOS: DA, 1)
- 11 d Enterprise is summoned to Starbase Seven to deliver ambassadors to Detente Station One for a possible peace accord with the Romulan Empire. Dr. M'Benga, who is under the telepathic influence of the spores which had rendered him catatonic a month ago, kills several ambassadors with mental constructs before he is discovered and remanded to Vulcan for treatment. (TOS: DA)

Placement: 1.5 m after spores (10)

Time: 2 d (?) to SB 7 (11), 1 d (40), 8 d to Détente 1

- 4 d The Enterprise is diverted to investigate a vessel with apparent capabilities of travelling at speeds of excess of Warp 15. The vessel belongs to the Rel; their leader, Norinda, challenges the captains of various races to a challenge to obtain access to their advanced technology. During the contest, Kirk pioneers the sport of orbital skydiving while attempting to save the life of Lt. Tanak Hounslow, who is killed. The alien vessel departs, apparently having chosen the Romulans as the winner (ST: CP)

Time: Five months, three months prior to SFTS (137) 3 days to Rift (77), 20 hours in to alien vessel (129).

- 1 d The Enterprise is commandeered by Gary Seven, who brings the ship to a cloaked planet within Romulan Space where a Tal Shiar commander attempts to use Benefactor technology to travel forward in time to kill Spock at the Khitomer conference in 2293. With the aid of Captain Kirk, Gary Seven foils the assassination attempt (TOS: 84)

Paradox: Book places the events on the story in 2269, but refers to Turnabout Intruder as bein

3 d? The Enterprise is sent to bring an end to hostilities between the Chyrellkans and their colonists on the nearby world of Vancadia. It is discovered that Klingon agents, disguised as individuals in the government of both worlds, are responsible for the escalation of the violence. Matters are complicated by the collaboration of former Starfleet officers Jason Carmody and Benjamin Finney, who use a virus to disable the Enterprise computers and to control the flow of sensor information to the vessel. The Klingons double-cross Finney, who escapes and helps a stranded McCoy and Spock reunite with the Enterprise, as well as defeat the virus. The Klingons kill Carmody rather than allow him to be captured (TOS: 55)

Placement: Historians Note states this takes place in last year of original 5-year mission, Takes place after a Private Little War (54) never encountered a Klingon cloaking device (191)

5 d The Enterprise encounters an anomaly at the Crossroads Nebula, and loses nearly five days of ship time. They discover that during this period the star of Tau Ceti III experienced a massive solar flare, destroying the Yoon civilization. Evidence supports the fact that an outside agency may have been responsible for both events. (TOS: 71).

Time: Spock reports that five days have been erased from ship logs (255).

Placement: Takes place, four years, nine months into 5-year mission (HN), States Kirk was 34 going in, and 39 coming out (274).

Info: Republic once beamed up ten wounded men (187), Kirk remembers a Klingon vessel exploded above Thalia III (187), Kirk once on board the damaged Van der Vekken (187). Kirk remembers shaking the Kargite president's hand (187).

???? The Enterprise returns to Earth, completing her five-year mission. Kirk's request to be assigned the captaincy of the Victorious is denied.

Placement: Refers to the Rittenhouse scandal (58)

Info: Tomson was chief of Enterprise security for three three years (165)

???? Djanai dissidents kidnap Ambassador Sarek and Lt. Commander Uhura. Admirals Kirk and Ciana effect their rescue and to start a dialogue between the Inari and the Djanai (TLY).

Placement: Uhura states that she has met Sraek only once before (184).

???? Kolinahr student Sekar steals the katra of Vulcan High Master Zakal to deliver to the Romulans. Zakal consumes Sekar's mind, kidnaps Leonard McCoy, and causes the destruction of a Romulan cruiser's crew when they attempt to betray him. With the help of Spock and Kirk, McCoy is rescued, but Dr. Keridwen Lewellen dies in the rescue (TLY)

5 d? During the celebration of Apollo Day, Kirk stumbles upon a Klingon attempt to kidnap a Klingon expatriate living in New York who has made a physics breakthrough in warp travel theory. Kirk's assistant Kevin Riley assists the physicist G'Dath in escaping from the kidnappers, rescuing several hostages as well (TOS: 54).

Placement: Takes place Shortly before ST: TMP (HN); 8 months after TLY

Paradox: Apollo Tricentennial should be in 2269. Perhaps an arbitrary day was chosen to celebrate all Apollo missions? (119). G'Dath refers to one nuclear war in Earth history, and is apparently referring to WWII (180). The wording is sufficiently vague enough to mean WWIII, but would make the assertion it was limited nuclear war rather than the massive war alluded to in other sources.

18 d A conspiracy of Starfleet security personnel led by retired Starfleet captain Jackson Kahle manipulates the conflict between the Klingons and Romulans by giving the Romulans access to Klingon disruptor technology and Klingons the plans to the Romulan cloaking device. The conspirators attempt to place the blame of these acts on Lt. Sulu and Ensign Chekov. With the help of Admiral Kirk and other members of the former Enterprise crew, the plot is exposed and Sulu and Chekov cleared of all charges (TOS: 70).

Placement: Takes place directly after the Lost Years (HN)

Time: Novel takes place between Dec.14, 2269 and Jan. 1, 2270

2272

3 d While on vacation at the theme park city Demora in the Sahara, Sulu becomes embroiled in intergalactic espionage.

Placement: Nearly twenty years prior to the events in TOS: 76, Six months prior to ST: TMP

???? Kirk and McCoy attend the last test of the Recovery, an automated med-evac vessel capable of performing mass planetary evacuations. A Tholian plot to kill Admiral Kirk uses the creator of the Recovery. Forcing Dr. Shulman to alter Recovery's programming, the vessel fires on attending vessels, including Klingon and Romulan observers. Under the command of Admiral Kirk, cadets aboard the USS Paladin help to disable the vessel and defeat the Tholians with the aid of individuals both aboard the Recovery and on the Klingon vessel. The Recovery is destroyed and Dr. Shulman killed, as well as numerous Starfleet personnel, the heads of the Federation Disaster Relief Agency (Jason Albrecht, Chia Noon, Nassar Omar, Monique Thibeau), the crew of the Romulan vessel, and a Klingon away team (TOS: 73).

Info: Kirk recalls fight with pirates in the Xenia system (96)

- 1 d During the refit of the Enterprise, Captain Will Decker discovers a pair of Romulan spies disguised as computer technicians. The pair are attempting a virtual reenactment of the Romulan plot to disable and capture the Enterprise that they employed nearly twenty years earlier during its original launch under the command of Captain April. Captain Decker stops their plan and enacts the capture of one of the spies, while the other commits suicide. Soon thereafter, the Enterprise is brought online and launched to investigate the approaching Vejur cloud under the command of Admiral Kirk.

The Enterprise moves to intercept the Vejur cloud prior to it reaching Earth. The crew discovers that this immense sentient machine is the product of the reprogramming of the Earth Voyager VI probe by a race of intelligent machines. The new consciousness is attempting to bring its knowledge to its creators. Captain Will Decker sacrifices himself to the machine and transcends corporeality, thereby completed Vejur's mission and saving the Earth.

Info: Kirk states 94 crewmembers died on the five-year mission (8).

Paradox: States Kirk took command of Ent 9 years ago (47), Chapel joined crew seven years ago (94), warp drive invented about 100 years earlier (102).

- 3 d While studying the Stone Age civilizations of the Helvans, Captain Kirk is kidnapped and his memory wiped of the event. Admiral Savaj arrives the next day and relieves Kirk of command, placing Spock in command of the ship. Kirk, under the influence of aliens, attempts to kill both Savaj and Spock several times. The crew discovers the Designers, who are experimenting with increasing violence across the galaxy. The trio manage to compel the Designers to end their experimentation in this galaxy (TOS: 5)

Placement: Shortly after the events of Star Trek: TMP (13), After Surprise from the New Voyages (59), After Errand of Mercy (91), After Mindsifter (91)

Time: One Day (25), 1 day (63), 1 day (123)

- 2 d While surveying Cragon V for Klingon influence, an away team led by Kirk is attacked by Klingon forces after a meeting with the self-proclaimed god of the planet, Weyland. When a child is killed in the crossfire, Weyland intervenes, revealing his true form to be that of an energy creature, possibly an

Organian. Sulu, Chekov, and Scotty are thrust into the past, to face execution for their crimes. Sulu finds himself in samurai -era Japan, fighting a hopeless battle. Scotty finds himself in Scotland during the 18th century, where he saves the life of the long time ancestor of Matt Jeffries, the designer of the Jeffries tube. Chekov finds himself in Russia during World War II, where he saves the life of James Kirk's ancestor. Weyland, impressed by both their conduct and that of Kirk and the Klingon commander in response to a Klingon mutiny, allow the crewmembers to return and the ships to depart (TOS: 52)

10 d The Enterprise delivers Federation ambassador Mark Rosseau to the planet Nova Empyrea to negotiate for the continuation of a scientific outpost on planet. While there, the Empyrean President, Elizabeth March, requests political asylum for her daughter, who is genetically impure under Empyrean law and could face execution. While she is undergoing treatment on the Enterprise that would allow her to remain on Empyrea, McCoy is kidnapped by a youth on the planet who is seeking asylum as well. McCoy talks the boy into surrendering; the Federation outpost's tenure is extended after a narrow vote. Spock and Scott keep the outpost's reactor from going critical following a breakdown of machinery and software. (TOS: 72).

Placement: Takes place two years after TMP, Space Seed took place app. 6 years earlier (24), McCoy's resigning from Feynman was eighteen years ago (25)

Paradox: Rosseau and Kirk met ten years ago in 2264, just prior to Rosseau's retirement and just after Kirk took command of the Enterprise. (21)

Time: 3 d from orders to Starbase 86 (5), 7 d on Nova Empyrea (251)

2275 - 2294 (?)

5 d The Enterprise spends 5-6 days in refit at SB 12. While on leave, Kirk reads the novel The Final Reflection. (TOS: 16).

Placement: Refers to ten years of Peace Organia; set after TMP (15)

Paradox: Rand is still Yeoman (17)

20 d? The Enterprise is sent to the planet Nordstral to investigate outbreaks of dementia at a research facility set up by Nordstral Pharmaceuticals and to conduct a search and rescue operation for a crashed shuttlecraft. Chekov and Uhura lead a security detail to the planet and are pursued by religious fanatics led by a Kitka suffering from dementia. McCoy and Kirk are caught on a plankton harvesting submarine, having to fend off the sub's doctor, who is suffering from dementia, and face a series of natural disasters resulting from the shifting of Nordstral's magnetic field. Spock determines the fluctuating magnetic fields and dementia are the result of the harvesting of the planet's magnetic plankton, which keeps kept a delicate equilibrium of the planet's ecology. With the Enterprise's help, th's help, the magnetic plankton are cloned and the plankton population of Nordstral is brought back to normal. (TOS: 60).

*Placement: Uhura says she has been in Starfleet Twelve years (41)
Time: Go to planet on second day. Chekov and party chased through next day. Chekov was then unconscious for fifty hours. On ship for one day before Spock predicts planet equilibrium will be restored in 14 days: no indication that Enterprise will be on-site until then.*

- ???? Experimental weapons researcher Muav Haslev defects from Andor to the Orion government, an event that leads to a tense political situation along the two government's common border (TOS: 62, 24)
- ???? The Kongo collides with a cosmic string while en route to the Andorian Sector; the resulting energy pulse through the warp engines results in the death of one hundred crewmembers. (TOS: 62)
- 23 d The Enterprise is reassigned from a survey of the Canopis sector to patrol the Andorian/Orion border to monitor a tense stand off between the two governments following the defection of Andorian scientist Muav Haslev. Haslev smuggles himself on board the Enterprise; an Orion operative, disguised as a member of the Federation Auditor General team, murders the rest of the auditors and causes several acts of sabotage before the Chekov manages to stop him. Muav Haslev is captured and remanded to Andorian custody (TOS: 62).

Time: Two days, after returning to Sigma One, Ent. Is in dock for three weeks (276)

- 4 d Three months after bringing Spock to Vulcan, the Enterprise crew elects to leave asylum on Vulcan and return to Earth for trial. Commander Spock chooses to accompany them. While en route, Earth become threatened by an alien probe attempting to obliterate all life on Earth. Spock identifies that the probe is attempting to communicate with humpback whales, extinct some two hundred years. Using their stolen Klingon vessel, the Enterprise command crew travels back in time to 1986 and transports two whales back to the future. Its call answered, the Probe leaves and Earth is spared (ST: IV).
- 3 d The Enterprise crew is cleared of charges except for Admiral Kirk, who is demoted to captain and assigned the newly commissioned Enterprise NCC-1701-A (ST: IV).

Time: Three days after saving Earth

21 d Ambassadors of the Federation, Klingon, and Romulan governments are taken hostage by the Galactic Army of Light on Nimbus III. The Enterprise is sent to defuse the situation and discovers the Army of Light is led by Sybok, Spock's half-brother and believer of the existence of Sha Ka Ree, or Eden. Sybok and his followers commandeer the Enterprise and use it to pierce the Great Barrier at the center of the Galaxy. While under attack by a pursuing Klingon vessel, the crew discovers that Sha Ka Ree is a prison for a powerful energy being known as the One. The crew manages to defeat the One and escape the planet, but Sybok is killed in the escape (ST: V)

Placement: Takes place several days after the events of ST: IV

26 d In the wake of the Praetor's death, the Enterprise is assigned to a scientific and diplomatic exchange with the Romulans at Themaris IV. The detente is strained by a number of factors: the defection of Romulan musician Jandra and her twin, the archeologist Dajan; Romulan subversives attempt to sabotage the conference; their actions that seriously injure Federation ambassador Kevin Riley, and the attack on Wlaariivi by the alien Probe. With the help of the Romulan defectors, the Probe message is finally deciphered and communication made with the alien intelligence. The Probe transports the Federation and Romulan delegations to its home world in the Delta Quadrant to seek advice of its creators, only to find them destroyed. Following a failed Romulan attack on the Probe, meaningful contact is established with the Probe and the delegations are returned to Themaris. The Enterprise returns to Earth with the Romulan defectors.

Placement: Three weeks after STIV (6)., One mission between STIV and this mission (7)

Time: 14 days to Temaris IV (110), 3 days (162), 3 days (259), 6 24 days (332).

5 d? The Enterprise is chosen for the second contact with the Calligar. Commodore Jose Tyler, Ambassador Fox, and computer designer Richard Daystrom, as well as representatives of Andor (Thak) and Tellar (Shondar Dorkin) are present. Due to a collision with crewman Hicks, Ambassador Fox suffered moderate injuries and is required to remain on ship. Relations become tense when the Calligar representative to the Enterprise, Master Builder Ecma, requests asylum from the Federation to avoid Thinning. The Calligar take the Federation envoys to their world hostage, demanding the return of their Master Builder; Tellarite ambassador Dorkin is killed. Kirk goes through the Rift to plead the Master Builder's case. Kirk and Spock, in communion with the Calligar Worldnet, uncover that Ecma's thinning order was a murder attempt perpetrated by her son, Regger. The rift closes prematurely due to its interaction with the warp engines of a Tellarite vessel seeking to avenge Dorkin's death. All Alpha Quadrant personnel escape just prior to the Rift's Closing (TOS: 57).

Placement: Takes place 'not long' after STV (211).

- 4 d Enterprise is assigned to deliver Spock's niece Teska from Earth to Vulcan, where she will be bonded to a Romulan boy in the hopes of starting the process of Reunification. While en route, the Enterprise shuttles the Rigellian delegation to the Federation to Rigel. While on planet, Teska witnesses the murder of the Federation ambassador to Rigel when she mind melds with the dying diplomat. Detained for the trial, Spock and Teska stay on planet while the Enterprise continues to its rendezvous with the Romulan envoy. Not recognizing the mind meld as a valid testimony, the accused are acquitted, and then proceed to attempt to silence Spock and his niece. The Enterprise stages a rescue of the Romulan envoy, who were captured by Romulan pirates, and then returns to Rigel in time to save the pair from the criminal cartel (TOS: 82).

Time: Less than Two days from Earth to Rigel V (ST: 82, 33).

Placement: Takes Place shortly after ST VI (HN), Twenty-one years after end of this mission, Teska and Hasmek are joined on Vulcan (TOS: 82, 269).

- ???? While patrolling the Neutral Zone, the Enterprise discovers a derelict Romulan space station, the first of its type. An away team consisting of Spock, McCoy, and three ensigns discover the crew of the station were killed by a spaceborne creature that fed of the energy of the station's reactor core and the energy of the Romulan's own body. Matters are complicated when the Enterprise suffers from the energy drain as well as comes in conflict with a Romulan cruiser sent to investigate the station's disappearance. The Romulans attempt to self-destruct the station; however, the creature absorbs the explosion and divides into multiple organisms, which then depart the sector. (TOS: 63).

Placement: Takes place after Ice Trap, as McCoy thinks of Nordstral, Dr. Chapel (101), McCoy after Journey to Babel (11), after Bloodthirst; as Kirk knows what vamy's thought of Jim's pasttime of climbing mountains:after ST V (117).

Paradox: This is the first Romulan space station? Seems this is pretty late for a race that controls a multisystem empire. Rather, we could see this might be the first Romubeing less than a week ago.

- 21 d Enterprise under the command of Captain Spock begins a three-week training cruise.

- 11 d After reading the novel Strangers from the Sky, Admiral Kirk starts to recover memories blanked from his time travel to that particular event. Concerned for his safety and fearing dementia, McCoy and Starfleet Medical take him into custody. Spock, also suffering the same memory recall, travels to Earth, and, ill, travels to Earth, and, in a mind meld with Kirk, uncovers the truth (TOS: SFTS).

Time: Three days (100), Two days from Spock's message (149), six to Earth (150).

Placement: After Dwellers in the Crucible (53)

2281

- 2 d Sulu discovers that Susan Ling is dead and that he has a daughter, Demora Sulu (TOS: 76, 146).

Placement: Just prior to Kirk's acceptance of Academy post (TOS: 76, 146) Thirteen years prior to the events in TOS: 76 (TOS: 76, 142).

- 60 d While on a two-month mapping expedition, 158 crew members are stricken with a mutated virus caused by a Carreon virbac, replicated in the ships' replicators. Saavik prevents the Carreon doctor who inadvertently caused the epidemic from committing ritual suicide. (ENL)

Placement: 16 years after the TOS events in The Cage (ENL, 173), Just prior to Star Trek II (ENL, 200)

Kirk meets Antonia while at his uncle's farm in Iowa (TNG: STG, 212).

Kirk tells Antonia that he is returning to Starfleet (TNG: STG, 210).

2293

- ???? The Enterprise is sent to escort Klingon Chancellor Gorkon to Earth for peace talks with the Federation. A cabal of Klingons, Romulans, and Starfleet personnel interested in maintaining the current balance of power assassinates Chancellor Gorkon. A Klingon vessel capable of firing while cloaked places the blame on the assassination on the Enterprise and her crew. A Klingon court sentences Kirk and McCoy to the penal colony of Rura Penthe. The Enterprise frees the prisoners and, with the help of the Captain Sulu and the Excelsior, prevent the cabal from killing the daughter of the Klingon ambassador at the Peace talks at Khitomer (ST: VI).

Time: 10 years, app., after Star Trek III (4)

- ???? The Enterprise-A is sent to protect Federation colonies under attack by Klingon renegades along the Neutral Zone

???? Ambassador Sarek discovers that Romulan operatives, using orphaned Vulcans, have disguised themselves as an alien race known as the Freelans and are influencing events both in the Klingon Empire and in the Federation. With the help of the Enterprise crew and elements of the Romulan and Klingon fleets, the ambassador stops an invasion of Federation space by renegade Klingons and exposes the Freelan for what they are, averting interstellar war (ST: S).

Placement: The first chapter seems to allude to the events of Star Trek VI, but does not explicitly state this fact. The enterprise has just been in a battle.

1 d The Enterprise is returning to Earth for decommissioning when they receive a distress call from the Bill of Rights in orbit over Faramond. The Enterprise arrives in time to rescue the Bill of Rights as Roy Moss attempts to activate an ancient long distance transporter, which subsequently destroys the planet in a massive matter-antimatter reaction (TOS: BD)

Placement: 45 years after events that happened when Kirk was 16

1 d The Enterprise-A is decommissioned at Earth (TNG: STG,1).

1 d Kirk, Chekov, and Scott attend the maiden voyage of the Enterprise-B, under the command of John Harriman. The ship responds to a distress call by a pair of freighters transporting El Aurien refugees to Earth caught in the Nexus, a fast-moving energy vortex. The Enterprise-B, which is not fully functional and has a skeleton crew, has difficulty in the rescue. In an attempt to break free of the Nexus, the Enterprise-B suffers heavy damage: Kirk is thrown out through a hull breach and consumed by the Nexus. (TNG: STG).

1 d The Enterprise-B, while en route to the coronation ceremonies on Donatti II, responds to a distress call from the planet Askalon V. Crewman Demora Sulu apparently devolves into a wild animal, and Captain Harrison is forced to kill her to protect the away team (TOS: 76).

3 d ? Enterprise-B returns to Earth to attend Demora Sulu's funeral (TOS: 76).

2 d ? Enterprise-B scheduled to deliver Admiral Harrison to the coronations on Donatti II; while en route, they are diverted to keep the Excelsior from violating the quarantine placed on Askalon V. Captain Harriman intervenes on Captain Sulu's behalf, and helps rescue the captain and his captive daughter from a horde of clones created by the same technology that exists on the Shore Leave planet (TOS: 76).

6 d ? The Intrepid II responds to an assistance call from Captain David Rabin, head of a Starfleet Outpost on Obsidian. McCoy is captured by Romulans working with The Vulcan secessionist Sered. Spock and Rabin manage to bring the nomadic tribes together against the Romulans and their sabotage of the Federation assistance programs is revealed. (ST: VF).

2300s

- 2 d? Romulan forces mass along the Neutral Zone in preparation for an attack on Federation colonies. With the aid of a Federation spy within the Empire, the Enterprise-B captures a Romulan High Examiner and trick him into revealing the identities of several moles within Starfleet in an elaborate holodeck ruse in which the Examiner believes he is interrogating Captain Harriman (ENL)
- 6 m The Enterprise-C, first of the Ambassador class vessels, is launched under the command of Captain Rachel Garrett, former Federation ambassador to the Klingon Empire. After six months of routine assignments, the Enterprise begins searching for suitable colony worlds for the Warin and comes under attack by unknown vessels. 27 crewmen are killed in the exchange, and the sector is declared off-limits by Starfleet (ENL).

To Be Placed

14 d While en route to Forever World, the Enterprise nearly collides with a negative star mass. After achieving orbit, the ship discovers a massive alien starship left derelict for 300 million years. Within the vessel they find a trapped non-corporeal entity that attempts to take control of the Enterprise computer system's. Kirk convinces the creature that the Enterprise will collide with the star mass during a slingshot maneuver and the vessel escapes the gravity well, and the creature (STL1: BF)

Note: Is this the same type of creature as the One? Energy creature, in need of a starship, controls through processes, appears as glowing mist, and tries to take the ship to the Heart of the Galaxy - to free its mate or companion?

2 d Enterprise delivers historians to the Forever World and Kirk and Spock accompany one of the historians on a mission to the past of the Orion Empire. While on Orion, these three are unaffected by a time distortion in which Spock is killed as a child. After returning to an altered future, Spock travels back into Vulcan's past to save himself from a Le-Matya attack during his Kas-Wahn ritual (STL1: Y)

5 d ? The Enterprise is called from the Forever World to the Pallas system, where the Cloud, an immense space organism that consumes planets and transforms them into antimatter, threatens the 82 million inhabitants of Mantilles. Absorbed by the creature, the crew must restart the engines while facing destruction in the matter/antimatter conversion of the creature's meals. Spock manages to establish a mind link with the organism and convince it that smaller sentient life exists. The Cloud returns to deep space (STL1: OP)

Time: 2.5 days from Forever World

7 d ? The Enterprise ferries Prince Vikram from the Federation to Angira. While going on to Beta Carinae with needed medical supplies, the ship leaves behind Sulu and Spock to help update Angiran star charts. A rebellion of nobles against the Emperor leads Prince Vikram to the throne, and Sulu and Spock must help the prince escape the nobles and raise an army to save his throne (TOS: 22).

5 d The Enterprise is called to investigate a rupture in space-time near the U. S.S. Cochise, similar to the Gate the Enterprise discovered in the Sagittarius Arm. They discover that the gate system is breaking down, causing unnatural portals to open throughout space. An alien entity within the Nexus begins to cause irrational, blinding fear in people, resulting in madness and suicidal acts. Unable to determine the cause of the breakdown, the Enterprise refuses to follow orders when the madness reached Starfleet Command and enters the gate system. They are trapped by a device designed to locate the alien entity and banish infected ships, and are deposited in another universe in deep extragalactic space. With the help of the android vessel Kremastor, the Enterprise escapes the trap and makes contact with the alien entity, part of a group consciousness from a completely alien universe. The entity helps Kremastor destroy the primary Nexus and shut down the gate system.

Time: 2 days to Sagittarius Arm, one day there, two days to repair Devlin's engines.

11 d The Enterprise is sent to Trefolg to oversee the transport of prisoners to Starfleet HQ. The prisoners, a group of United Expansion Party fanatics led by Hander Morl, were attempting to foment war between the Federation and the Romulans. Captain Kirk diverts to Trellisane after receiving a message of Klingon interference in that system. While on the surface of Trellisane with McCoy and Spock, Kirk becomes stranded when the prisoners escape the brig and take over the Enterprise in an attempt to complete their mission. The away team tries to organize resistance against a Sealon/Klingon invasion of the planet, during which McCoy discovers the nature of the treatment of yegemot in Trellisane society. Kirk convinces the Klingons to help him stop the Enterprise, but not before the ship is attacked by Romulan forces. While Kirk convinces the Klingons and Romulans to broker a new peace treaty regarding the status of the Trellisane system, Spock and McCoy establish diplomatic relations between Sealon and Trellisane and a peace agreement is negotiated (TOS: 14)

- 50 d The Enterprise is directed to a patrol of the Neutral Zone following a buildup of Romulan forces. The mission is uneventful save an increase in disturbed dreams among the crewmen noted by Doctor McCoy. The dreams are believed to be caused by a Romulan attempt to alter time that was averted, but the evidence is inconclusive as only Captain Kirk and Spock retain any memory of the altered universe, or "Second History" (TOS: 24)

Time: Patrol missions last 'nearly two months' (1)

Placement: Original uniforms (79)

Paradox: Praetor Thea states Vulcans and Romulans split biologically millions of years ago (242); Romulan agents stop the formation of Federation in 2097, which is some 10 years after established events from other sources. Kirk also states Earth has had no contact with alien races at this point. To fit in the timeline, I am pushing this date back to 2077 (242)

Note: Although Spock and Kirk state they will not try to tell of this experience as they have no proof, I would surmise that they might share their experiences in their sealed logs.

???? Two weeks at Memory Alpha after Lights of Zetar(TOS: 42, 111).

???? Enterprise surveys Epsilon Ionis, a black hole binary (TOS: SM, 17).

???? The Enterprise makes first contact with the Trelorians. (ST: CP) (Picard)

- 6 d The Enterprise is sent to Draqqa to investigate the murder of a prominent diplomat is the Draqqi-Iach'Tu peace talks. Kirk and Draqqi Subcommander Orisa Jilain uncover a series of murders perpetuated by a surgically altered Iach'Tu seeking revenge on Draqqi prison informants who had his Draqqi lover killed (ENL).

- 7 d The Enterprise returns to Earth for debriefing regarding the Guardian of Forever. Kirk nearly resigns his captaincy in the wake of the Edith Keeler incident but changes his mind after a week of shore leave in Iowa (TOS: FF).

???? The Enterprise away team diverts a herd of rampaging dranzers on Ribal II.

Placement: Prior to events in STL9

- 14 d While delivering ambassador Robert April and wife to a conference on Babel, the Enterprise is targeted by the Wanderers Who Play, an advanced race looking to test the maturity of the human species. Using powerful illusions, the Wanderers convince the crew they were transported to a negative universe, where all laws of physics and space-time work in an opposite manner to that of ours, and watch as the crew unravels the method to return to 'real' universe. Secondly the aliens test both the crew and that of a Klingon vessel by creating the illusion that Char and Van Delminnen, two brilliant, reclusive scientists, had developed a planet-smashing weapon. After fighting a running gun battle with the Klingon vessel, Kirk and the Klingon commander Kumara face off on illusory rogue planetoid called Gypsy, and are finally judged by the Wanderers, who threaten both races with annihilation if they are unable to evolve within 12,000 years to a more advanced and peaceful culture (STL7).

Time: Estimated based on the stardate listed.

103 d Enterprise travels to Lactra VII to discover the fate of the crew of the Scout Ship Ariel, which had gone missing. Beaming to the surface, Kirk, Spock, and McCoy find themselves exhibits of an intergalactic zoo run by the telepathic Lactrans. When one of the Lactran children is beamed aboard the Enterprise, the race establishes contact and agrees to free the humans if they will aid in the capture of a jawanda for their zoo. In order to do so, the Enterprise travels to world of Boqu. On Boqu, they solve an epidemic threatened the Boquans and are given a gravity well trap constructed of several moons to capture a jawanda. Barely escaping being drug into deep space by the jawanda, the ship manages to capture an immature specimen and bring it back to Lactra (STL8).

Time: Several hours on Lactra, several weeks (3) to Boqu, three weeks and one days to find cuu days ire, five days in orbit (95), six days until they encounter a Boqu (127), five weeks to Lactra (181), 2 weeks to Boqu.

5 d The Enterprise crew discovers a deadly form of argon poisoning is the threatening the colonists of Epsilon Delta IV when famed explorer Kostas Spyroukis dies while en route to Epsilon from Babel. While conducting an emergency evacuation, the Enterprise is collected by a mad Organian named Enowil, as well a Klingon and Romulan vessel. Enowil challenges the crew of each vessel to a contest to discover what he is missing. When the Enterprise crew determines he lacks an independent critique of his creations, Enowil agrees to create a new world for the endangered colonists (TTM).

Placement: After Squire of Gothos (70) and Organia (72).

14 d The Enterprise takes on Pandronian observer Commander Ari bn Bem during some standard survey missions. While on Delta Theta III, the away teams is captured by the natives and come into contact with a powerful non corporeal entity. The entity allows the away team to return to the Enterprise and the planet is placed under quarantine. The Enterprise travels to Science Station 24 and on to Pandro to investigate the stealing of the Tam Paupa, an organic crown that helps the ruler of Pandro make wise decisions. The away team discovers that natives and Klingons attempting to transform Pandronian wildlife into super weapons performed the theft. The natives betray the Klingons and the facility destroyed, and the Enterprise crew helps to save the capital from destruction by the Klingon genetic constructs. Commander Ari bn Bem is chosen by the Tam Paupa as the new leader of Pandro (STL9).

Time: 4 days from return from Varbox to synthesize fasirs

- 12 d Enterprise is sent to Boaco Six to make contact with the rebels who had recently taken over the planet. Klingon and Romulan influences on the planet, and the Federation's support of the military regime that used to be in power strain their mission. The situation is worsened when a group of Onlies commandeers an experimental Starfleet vessel and destroys a Boacon envoy en route from Boaco VIII. With the help of the vessel's cloaking device inventor, Flint, the Enterprise manages to locate the vessel, but are only able to save one of the Onlies before the vessel is destroyed by a Klingon cruiser. The Enterprise reveals doctor Voltmer's unethical practices in rehabilitating the Onlies, and the Boacans normalize relations with the Federation. (TOS: 46)

Placement: During five-year mission, after Miri and Requiem for Methuselah (HN)

Time: Events up to page 218 take place in about a week; probably five more days on planet.

- 7 d While delivering astrophysicists and equipment to Starbase 12, Spock becomes concerned that a clandestine Klingon mission is being performed aboard a docked freighter. While attempting to infiltrate the vessel, Spock is captured and subjected to the Mind Sifter. Escaping his captivity, Spock is transported to Earth in the year 1867, where Klingon operatives hope to pave the way for Earth to be incorporated into the Karsid Empire and therefore forestall the creation of the Federation. Kirk and crew manage to piece together what has transpired and duplicate the Klingon method of time travel to arrive in time to save the life of the man the Klingons attempted to kill, Aaron Stemple, an ancestor of Spock's and the man who halted invasion by the Karsid (TOS: 23)

Placement: After City on the Edge of Forever (56)

Time: Took a little under a week to travel back to 1867.

- 53 d The Enterprise arrives at Starbase 1 and picks up a team of Federation ambassadors Zarv, Donald Lorritson, and Mek Jokor to negotiate for peace between Ammdon and Jurnamoria. While en route, the ship rescues Hylan speaker Lorelei from her disabled craft. Lorelei's talents as a Speaker entice the crew to commit mutiny while the engines are dangerously strained. While attempting to repair the engines in orbit over the Uni-Life planet, the ambassadors are killed in an attempt to communicate with the natives before the true nature of the Uni-Life organism is discovered. Kirk and his away team manage to regain control of the Enterprise and proceed to Ammdon, where Lorelei brokers peace between the two worlds (TOS: 12)

*Time: 3 weeks out (18), 15 days to Ammdon (26), three days there (?)
2 weeks back*

Paradox: States the civilization found in deep space is first advanced civilization discovered in 20 years?

???? The Enterprise travels to Alnath II and then conducts a mapping mission of Delta Canaris IV (TOS: 12).

Placement: Prior to events in TOS: 12

???? The Enterprise is overhauled at Starbase 12 (TOS: 46, 16).

45 d The Enterprise is chosen to represent Starfleet in a starship regatta to celebrate the acceptance of the planet Gulrey to the Federation. During the race, the Enterprise foils a plot by a Romulan commander to destroy Gulrey, as he believes the race to be a serious threat to the Romulan Empire (TOS: 67)

*Paradox: 84 years after the end of the Federation/Romulan War:
McCoy has been in Starfleet 20 years (36), Kirk is 36 (38), Tellarite is not a member of the Federation (38)*

Time: 5 days to planet, 10 tugged to SB 16, 2 months of repair (TOS: 67, 304)

14 d The Enterprise returns to Earth and is decommissioned by Starfleet Commander Morrow. After meeting with Ambassador Sarek, Kirk discovers that abnormal behavior exhibited by McCoy on return to Earth is the result of a mind meld with Spock just prior to his death. In order to save McCoy and preserve Spock's soul, Kirk requests to return to Genesis and is denied. Kirk and the command staff of the Enterprise conspire to steal the Enterprise and return to Genesis, where Klingon Captain Kruge attacks them. Kirk destroys the Enterprise to keep it out of the Klingon's hands, and manages to save Saavik and a rejuvenated Spock from Genesis before it implodes by commandeering the Klingon vessel (ST: III).

16 d? The Enterprise is sent from Starbase 12 to investigate the loss of contact with Timshel, a resort world. Kirk goes undercover and discovers the inhabitants of Timshel have given themselves over to the Joy Machine, a computer AI that delivers rewards to the pleasure centers of the brain in exchange for menial work. The Joy Machine attempts to control the Enterprise crew, while Kirk joins a group of rebels that finally force the Joy Machine to leave the planet. (TOS: 80)

Time: 2 days in Timshel City, six to North, 2 there, 6 back

12 d While the Enterprise is diverted to Starbase 18 to gather agricultural supplies for Vestra V, Spock and Chekov travel to Akkalla to review the work of a Federation Science Outpost and determine if the mission should be extended. Chorym forces shoot down their shuttle and are taken prisoner by Akkallan rebels attempting to overthrow the military cabal controlling the Publican and the government of their planet. With the help of the academicians of the planet, the Enterprise discovers a second civilization that lives in the oceans of Akkalla, composed of Akkallans who undergo a physical transformation to life in the seas. Chorym fishing methods are altered and the government conspiracy exposed (TOS: 33).

Placement: After ST: TMP (HN), last events prior to the events in STII as Kirk accepts Academy teaching position (275)

Time: Based on Stardates

28 d The Enterprise delivers a team of xenosociologists to Midgwis via Proxima Nova and Giermos. While transporting back to the Enterprise, Kirk's mind is dislodged from his body by the Ghost Walker Geshkerroth. The transporter effect, however, keeps Kirk's mental essence from dissipating, and Kirk spends nearly a week attempting contact with the crew before they realize what has occurred. Storing Kirk's mental construct in a computer shell similar to Sargon's Device, Spock finally leads a group of crew against the possessed captain and convince the Midgwins to help restore the captain (TOS: 53)

Placement: Fourth year of the 5-year mission (TOS: 53, HN), after Sargon (11), two years after the Organian Peace Treaty was signed (52)

Time: Two weeks to Elcidar Beta III (3), Kirk spends a week outside out of body (192), 5 days back (conjecture).

???? Enterprise fight with pirates in the Xenia system (96)

Placement: Takes place before 2272

2 d Kirk and Spock spend two days in quarantine on the Galileo due to an outbreak of s'rellian drypox (ST: CP)

Placement: Six weeks prior to ST: CP

45 d? The Enterprise investigates raider attacks on the agricultural world of Arianti. While on planet, Spock suffers traumatic head injuries after leaping from a cliff to avoid being killed by Romulan operatives. After installing planetary shielding, the Ariantu are again attacked, and several crewmembers are killed. A Romulan agent posing as a Starfleet neurologist infiltrates the ship and plays Kirk and McCoy against one another while ensuring Spock does not regain his memory. Spock requests leave on Vulcan and is nearly killed by Romulan agents after recovering his memory. Kirk and McCoy join Spock on Vulcan after delivering delegates to a special Federation Council session to discuss the Arianti situation. Romulan agents on board the Enterprise kill several diplomats. Upon returning to Arianti, Spock and Kirk infiltrate the base, where a Romulan fifth column, led by the female Romulan agent, aids them in disabling the base. Romulan personnel destroy the base rather than face capture. (TOS: 27).

Placement: Four and a half months since shore leave on Regla Kanete (9), after Vulcan Academy Murders (28), Thompson is security chief (74)

Time: No definite time periods are named, but based on the supposition that there were at least two weeks of therapy prior to Spock leaving, six-seven weeks seems appropriate to the story pacing.

- 21 d? While attempting a rescue operation, Kirk is kidnapped by Klingons and convinced by an elaborate Klingon ruse that he was stranded in a time discontinuity for over one hundred years. In this future, a group of peaceful "New Klingons" plans to travel back in time to ensure that the future unfolds as it should by leading a fleet to Earth for formal negotiations with the Federation. With the aid of the Enterprise crew, Kirk uncovers the Klingon deception and stops their invasion fleet from entering Federation space. In addition, they uncover a web of Klingon sleeper agents spread through the Federation and Starfleet.

Placement: Takes places after a harrowing mission at a Federation outpost (11); after Vejur (12), Crisis on Centaurus (174).

Time: 2 weeks for repair at Starbase 17 (79)

Paradox: Spock refers to his status as the solitary Vulcan in the fleet (102).

- 14 d The Enterprise is diverted from a mapping expedition to act as a diplomatic shuttle for a Kaldorni delegation to La Paz. Spock takes leave to attend a symposium of Vulcan (TOS: 51). While en route, Kirk uncovers two spies attempting to sabotage the mission; Cecilia Simons, wife of Commissioner Montoya, who is working for a criminal syndicate, and a Yagran assassin, attempting to halt the colonization of their world by the Kaldorni. Kirk renegotiates the Kaldorni and Beystohnai accords for Yagra, leaving it a protected world for its own citizens.

Placement: Shortly after ST: TMP (HN)

- 24 d The Enterprise leaves the Wagner Trading Post to investigate an apparent Klingon attack against a Frenni merchant caravan. While attempting to rescue the remaining Frenni, the Enterprise is ambushed and severely damaged; seventeen crewmembers are killed. While repairing the vessel, McCoy suffers head trauma and suffers from short-term amnesia, losing the past 25 years of his life. The ship also discovers an abandoned Klingon vessel and begins returning to Wagner at impulse power using the vessel as a watchship. After fending off several attacks by Raven-controlled forces, the crew discovers the true nature of the Ravens thanks to a memory of Dr. McCoy. During the final assault against Raven forces on the Wagner Trading Post, Spock is seriously injured and working in surgery causes McCoy's amnesia to dissipate (TOS: 34).

Placement: shortly after a truce between the Federation and the Klingons (TOS:

34, 22); McCoy is 48 (88)

Time: Hours to Frenni ships, 2 days (33), 2 days (?), 13 days to Wagner (103). Estimate at least a week to repair the Enterprise

- 9 d While undergoing maintenance at Starbase 13, the Enterprise is sent to the quarantined planet Heartland to investigate Gilla Dupree's claim that he father Jacob Kell is living on the planet. The Enterprise crew discovers Kell living among the Danon, the natives of Heartland, who maintain a massive computer that acts as a defense mechanism for the planet and that contains the consciousness of all Danon who had previously lived. Gilla Dupree voluntarily takes a place in the Great Machine to ensure that the Enterprise can safely leave the planet.

Time: 3 days to Heartland, app 3 days on planet, 3 days back to Starbase 13

- 10 d The Enterprise is directed to lead a task force to Dekkanar to retrieve Federation personnel following a period of civil unrest on that planet. While attempting to adhere to the strict rules of engagement in this mission, the task force comes under attack first by Dekkan rebel factions and then by a renegade Klingon commander attempting to force the Federation into violating the Organian Treaty. With the help of other Klingon vessels, Kirk confronts the experimental vessel, an automated heavy cruiser, capable of firing while cloaked, which is commanded by a smaller attendant vessel. The vessel is destroyed and order restored on Dekkanar (TOS: 48).

Placement: Between TMP and WOK (HN), Tomson is Security Chief, After The Romulan Way (TOS: 35) (152)

Time: 3 days from rendezvous to Dekkanar (74), 7 days from start of novel (75)

- 47 d The Guardian of Forever begins to project time displacement waves that prematurely age stars and threaten to destroy numerous populated systems. Several starships and Alpha Centauri B are destroyed. Kirk is given command of the Enterprise and is ordered to attempt contact with the Guardian. When the telepath assigned to help in the mission lapses into a coma, Kirk, Spock, and McCoy use the Guardian to travel back to Sarpeidon's past to recover Spock's son Zar to attempt contact. Zar succeeds in making contact and the Guardian brings its creators, the Originators, back to our universe. The Originators are highly unstable, and with the help of the Guardian, are forced to remove themselves from our reality. The crew then helps Zar win a decisive battle in Sarpeidon's history, saving Zar's life in the process (TOS: 39).

Time: 15 hours from Earth, 10 days to Gateway (57), five weeks in orbit,

Placement: Takes place after TMP and Deep Domain (HN), 6 months

after Winona Kirk's death (12), 1 month since seeing Spock (14), 14.5 years after first mission to Sarpeidon (43), 10 years after last seeing David Marcus (299), 1 month prior to Star Trek II ? (302)

20 d The Enterprise is sent to make contact with the three sentient species of Flyspeck. While conducting their survey, Kirk I transported through time by a member of the ;At. Left in command of the Enterprise, Dr. McCoy handles delicate negotiations with intruding Klingons and joins forces with them when an Orion pirate vessel attacks. Diplomatic relations are established with the inhabitants of Flyspeck (TOS: 50).

Time: 1 week layover at Earth (13), 3 days to Flyspeck (26), two days on planet, 2 days with Kirk missing (257); text refers to Enterprise remaining for at least a month, but we can surmise it will be called away, we estimate in six days (278)

Placement: During first 5-year mission – refers to Burke, Kerasus (30), Tanzer, and Tomson (108)

???? The Enterprise makes contact with the wave-dancers of Bellatrix V (TOS: 39, 103)

???? The Enterprise takes care of the Giant Rat or Tamuras (TOS: 39, 103)

???? The Enterprise participates in the deathday celebration of the Arch-Duchess Gliszpck of Rumon Alpha II. (TOS: 39, 103)

???? The Enterprise participates in the investiture of the Neo-Pope of Ecathalos. (TOS: 39, 103)

7 d ? While mapping uncharted systems, the Enterprise responds to a distress signal from Tanis, where they discover a secret bioweapons facility built by rogue elements of Starfleet. The Enterprise rescues the one survivor, Dr. Jeffrey Adams, who has killed the other scientists of the facility after being exposed to an engineered microbe that causes symptoms akin to vampirism. The prisoner is delivered to Starbase 9, but Adams escaped and stows away on board the Enterprise. Kirk uncovers a conspiracy between Adams and Admiral Mendez of Starfleet Weapons Research to develop a pathogen capable of wiping out the Romulans. While attempting to find evidence on Tanis, the Enterprise is attacked by Romulan forces. Mendez is arrested when Adams confesses. (TOS: 37)

Time: Several days into mapping mission (13).

Placement: After Demons (136)

2 d While mapping the Arachnae Nebula, the Enterprise receives a coded transmission from the Cephenees star system. In investigating the signal, the ship triggers an automated defense system that subjects the crew to a radiation that causes the crew to shrink to nearly a quarter inch tall. Before the transformation is made irreversible, Kirk manages contact with the inhabitants of the world, a human colony long since affected, and finds a way to reverse the process. The colony of Terratin is relocated to the planet Verdantin (STL4: TI).

- 6 d The Enterprise is called to investigate ship disappearances around the Delta Triangle and stumbles into a Klingon ambush. During the battle, the Enterprise and the Klingon vessel Klothos are shifted into a time-space irregularity in the delta Triangle. The bubble contains hundreds of ships from various cultures and the survivors of those derelicts. The Klingon and Federation personnel work together to escape the bubble. The crew discovers a Klingon plot to destroy the Enterprise right after escaping the bubble and the explosives are defused (STL4: TT)

Time: Have 96 hours to escape bubble

- 6 d ? The Enterprise is directed to protect a convoy of automated grain carriers to Sherman's Planet. The mission is threatened by both a Klingon privateer and by Cyrano Jones, who has created a genetically modified tribble that grows to tremendous size.

Time: Starts a few days after STL4:TT (165)

- 10 d? The Enterprise conducts a survey of the planet Argos. A sea creature attacks Kirk and Spock's shuttle and they are lost at sea for five days. When located, the crew discovers that they are mutating into aquatic life forms after exposure to Aquan genetic science. With the help of the native Aquans, the transformation is reversed and the Enterprise stops a series of seismic disturbances that threaten the local population (STL5: AE)

Time: Five days search for landing party (241)

- 6 d? Kirk, Spock, and other crewmembers contract choriocytosis, a disease fatal to Vulcans. When the freighter delivering the treatment is attacked en route by a pirate vessel, the Enterprise intervenes and uncovers the Orion duplicity in interstellar pirating. The drug is retrieved and Spock is cured.

- 3 d? The Enterprise is diverted to meet with a Vedalan Asteroid and attend to a meeting asked for by the Vedalans. Kirk and Spock are joined with a quartet of aliens to retrieve the Soul of Alar, a stolen Skorr spiritual relic that threatens to cause a jihad of the Skorr against the galaxy. On a strange artificial world, the companions retrieve the Soul and uncover the Hereditary Prince of the Skorr as the architect of its theft (STL5: J)

Time: Time on planet is out of sync with normal time – the three days are an estimate of how much time was involved in travel to the Asteroid.

- 180 d Romulan and Klingon agents kidnap five members of the Warrantors of the Peace in an attempt to foment unrest in the Federation. The Enterprise is directed to the Romulan Neutral Zone, where they are officially directed to patrol the border. Secretly they are acting under orders of Starfleet Intelligence to be prepared for a rescue mission. Commander Sulu is inserted in disguise into the Romulan Empire to ascertain the Warrantors whereabouts. Once uncovered, the Enterprise enters Klingon space and effects the rescue of the two survivors, the Vulcan and Human Warrantors Cleante al'Faisal and T' Shael (TOS: 25).

Time: 6 months from kidnapping to rescue (279)

Placement: 28 years since Spock went to the Academy (135); just prior to Star Trek II as Saavik is a crewmember

- 5 d? Enterprise crewmember Jean Czerny is chosen by Starfleet Intelligence to be captured by Klingon forces and then work to make contact with pro-Federation sympathizers led by the Directrix of Peneli, Mara. At the same time she is to influence the heir to the throne of Tahrn, Kang, to enter treaty talks with the Federation. Before she is kidnapped, however, an earthquake destroys the agricultural station on Sherman's Planet. Although Czerny is taken by the Klingons, she suffers amnesia and forgets her assignment (TOS: 26).

Placement: Two years after Trouble With Tribbles (37)

Paradox: Kirk states he was a midshipman during Tarsus Four Massacre (47)

- 7 d? While patrolling the Romulan Neutral Zone, the Enterprise encounters a derelict Romulan vessel. During the investigation, the ship comes under attack by a new Romulan device – limpet mines that adhere to shields and detonate when the shields are lowered. McCoy and Chekov lead an away mission to a nearby planet where they capture a Romulan survivor who helps to disarm the mines. Commander Spock blocks her memories of the event and the Romulan is released.

Placement: Takes place within the six months between the beginning of the novel and the end of the novel

Time: Four days on ship (120)

- 37d Spock goes undercover into the Klingon Empire to arrange the extraction of Jean Czerny. Although he is unsuccessful, he does help the defection of Aernath and Kang's son, Aethelnor. This 'defection' brings Kang to Sherman's Planet for negotiations, and following the discussions, both Czerny and the Klingons are repatriated.

Time: Six months after beginning of novel (194), 7 days to K-7 (206), app. 2 weeks on Enterprise, two weeks of negotiations (269), 2 days of closing ceremonies (277).

Placement: After STL4:MT(211)

14d? McCoy is placed in a position to be captured by Romulans and brought to trial in the Imperial Senate. His capture is a cover to arrange the extraction of a Starfleet Intelligence operative posing as a servant in a minor Romulan House. The operative declines the extraction, and renegade Romulan Ael rescues McCoy from the Senate Chamber.

Paradox: The Carrizal, the human ship to make first contact with the Romulans, is referred to as a Federation Vessel (190)

The Romulan War is aid to end with the Vulcans joining the Federation and at the behest of Vulcan ambassador Sarek (194)

McCoy referred to as Leonard Edward McCoy (211)

Placement: McCoy is fifty years old (45) 1 year after Web of the Romulans (177)

?? The Enterprise discovers a planet containing a civilization of pre-Reformation Vulcans, which is later discovered to be the result of the Preservers (ST: P, 133)

Placement: Takes place during the second five-year mission (133)
